

WHAT IS EDIS?

Electronic Delivery Instruction Slip or eDIS is a facility which allows you to sell shares when you have not submitted your Power of Attorney (POA).

WHAT IS A POWER OF ATTORNEY?

A power of attorney (PoA) is a document that gives another person the legal authority to act on your behalf as per the terms mentioned in the document. In the case of a demat account, the PoA gives the online broker the legal authority to take certain decisions on your account.

Is it mandatory to execute a PoA to open a Demat account?

- No, a PoA is not mandatory to open a demat account. But it can be beneficial to have one.
- Investing in the stock market involves two things - buying and selling. While you can buy shares without a PoA, you cannot always sell a share without a PoA. Buying shares is a simple process. You make the payment, and the shares are transferred to your Demat account. However, when you sell your shares, the online broker debits these shares from your account and transfers them to the stock exchange. This is where the broker requires a PoA since the shares are exiting your demat account.

Another way to sell shares without a PoA is by using the Delivery Instruction Slip (DIS). In this case, you need to submit the DIS with all the necessary information to your broker. After receiving the DIS, the broker will proceed to debit the shares from your account. However, this can be time-consuming. Using a PoA, on the other hand, is a prompt and quick process that can be done online.

WE HAVE GONE LIVE WITH EDIS ON THE GEPL
DESKTOP BASED
APPLICATION & GEPL PRO
MOBILE APP.

What does this mean for investors?

 Earlier, investors had to courier a signed copy of their Power of Attorney (POA) or Delivery Instruction Slip (DIS) in order to sell their holdings. With the eDIS facility by CDSL, investors can now sell the stocks from their holdings via an online authorization using TPIN.

So, What Is It?

eDIS or Electronic Delivery Instruction Slip is an alternative to Power of Attorney for investors who want to sell their holdings but haven't submitted their POA. It is a facility by CDSL that allows an investor to authorize their holdings online via a TPIN and sell stocks without the need for physically couriering a POA. eDIS is applicable only on Equity Delivery Sell Transactions. The facility is currently available to those who have a Demat Account with the CDSL Depository.
