Debt Market Watch 26 September, 2022

Government Security Market Update :

The yield across the curve rose sharply after the US Fed hiked rates by 75 bps and sounded more hawkish than expected. Meanwhile, in the week the RBI received bids worth Rs.94,267 crore for the overnight variable repo rate auction on Thursday, nearly twice the total amount of Rs.50,000 crore. The cut –off rate was 5.58% a little lower than the Marginal Standing Facility (MSF) rate of 5.65%. In a weekly auction the nine states sold 10-20 years loan in the range of 7.5492 to 7.58 percent and in the Treasury bill auction the Reserve Bank of India sold 91; 182 & 364 DTB at a yield of 5.88; 6.4298 & 6.6494 percent respectively. Once again in the weekly auction the RBI has not accepted any bid for the GOI FRB 2028 and cancelled the full amount. The other securities 7.38% GS 2027; 7.54% GS 2036 & 7.36% GS 2052 sold at a yield of 7.3890; 7.4898 & 7.5303 percent respectively.

The yield on the 7.26% Government bond due August 2032 fell to 7.3926% from last week level of 7.2310% .

Global Debt Market Update:

On Friday, the UK's five-year bonds tumbled by the most since at least 1992 after the government rolled out a massive tax-cut plan that may only strengthen the Bank of England's hand. Two-year US Treasuries are in the middle of the longest losing streak since at least 1976, dropping for 12 straight days. The Fed on Wednesday, raised its policy rate range to 3.00 to 3.25%, its third straight 75-basis point's hike. Policy makers indicated they expect to push the rate beyond 4.5% and keep it there, even if it exacts a large toll on the economy. The Japan's 10-year government bond yields rose to 0.245%, hovering close to the BOJ's upper limit of 0.25%. U.S. 10-year Treasury yields rose to a 12-year peak on Friday and two -year yields rose to their highest since 2007, as investors fretted that central banks globally will keep tightening monetary policy to tackle soaring inflation. The policy-sensitive 2-year Treasury hit a fresh 15-year record of 4.266% and the yield on the 10-year 13.685%.

Bond Market Ahead:

A weakening Rupee on the back of sticky wholesale and retail inflation, will complicate the task of both the government and the Reserve Bank of India and may prompt the monetary policy committee (MPC) to go for another round of 50 basis points hike. At the same time, fears of elevated import costs may force the government to further initiate measures to ease supply side bottlenecks in the domestic market to control price pressure. The rupee hit fresh trough of 81.09 against the US dollar on Friday, as the aggressive rate hike from the US Fed and escalating geopolitical tension in Ukraine bridled risk appetite. Falling crude oil price will be positive for the Indian market as it will ease out the inflationary pressure but due to weak rupee the effect will get nullified to some extend as we are importing nearly 75 percent of the crude oil. The current spread is nearly 142 bps lower than the 10-year average spread of 518 bps, and 66 bps lower than the 20-year average spread of 442.3 bps between the Indian and US 10-year Treasury yield. If the spread to match with the 10-year average then in that case Indian 10 year benchmark to trade above 8.50% going forward.

Bond Strategy:

- Buy 7.26% GOI 2032 around 7.42/43 with a target of 7.35 and a stop loss of 7.47%
- Buy 6.54% GOI 2032 around 7.48/49 with a target of 7.40 and a stop loss of 7.54%.
- Buy 7.38% GOI 2027 around 7.41/42 with a target of 7.35 and a stop loss of 7.47%.
